Van Buren Twp. DDA plans large splash pad

By Rosemary K. Otzman
Independent Editor

"It's larger than Canton's," said Van Buren Township Supervisor Kevin McNamara as he joined in a description of the new splash pad project being planned for Quirk Park during the Nov. 27 meeting of the VBT Downtown Development Authority.

"It's one of the biggest in the area," said DDA Assistant Executive Lisa Lothringer.

She said a meeting was held with Russell Design and the Parks and Recreation Department to go over preliminary concept design.

Based on that meeting, Russell Design was to make changes to the drawing. She passed around a concept drawing of the project, but didn't want to release it to the press because she said it was just a concept.

She expected to get costs on the project on Nov. 30. She said there will be a presentation to the VBT Recreation Committee at its 5:30 p.m., Dec. 11, meeting, to get feedback.

DDA intern Melissa Kalnasy also gave a report on the project.

She said major components include the splash pad, playground updates, changing rooms, wayfinding signage, lawn area, seating/picnic tables, a bio-swale for drainage, and a memorial for Egypt Covington.

In other business at the 58-minute meeting on Nov. 27, the DDA:

- Approved a request from Executive Director Susan Ireland to revise the change order policy, so she doesn't have to come back to the board at the next meeting or call a special meeting for changes to the Placemaking Project, now under construction. The DDA approved Axiom work project change up to $3,499.99 can be approved by Ireland with concurrence

Belleville City Council sets annual Holiday Contest

By Rosemary K. Otzman
Independent Editor

Residents and businesses don't have to sign up to take part in the annual "Light Up the Town for Christmas in Belleville" holiday decorating contest.

At Monday's regular meeting of the Belleville City Council, the annual contest was announced.

All those participating have to do is decorate the outside of their house or business with lights and seasonal decorations. Then, have the lights on from 6 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 12 and 13.

The contest judges – members of the city council – will observe all areas of the city and an award will be presented for the best display in each of five areas:

- Victoria Commons;
- Harbour Pointe;
- The two mobile home parks;
- The balance of the city; and
- Businesses.

The winner in each area will be notified on Friday, Dec. 14, and presentations will be made at the City Council meeting on Monday, Dec. 17.

At the end of Monday's meeting, Mayor Kerreen Conley conferred with council members to assign judging areas.

In other business at Monday's 13-minute meeting, the council:

- Heard Mayor Conley thank all who worked on the Winter Fest. She said the ice sculptures were pretty when they first arrived and the BYC float was incredible again this year. She reminded all of Ladies Night Out shopping in downtown Belleville from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6;
- Heard Renaud ask if the city has heard anything from the Great Lakes Water Authority on the damage to the water line on East Huron River Drive. Rutherford said he was at a meeting there earlier that day and he found he has to fill out paperwork. He was told the extra pressure was caused by a DTE outage that tripped the pumps and the pressure varied. He said he saw the GLWA control room for the first time and it was impressive. "I don't know where we're going to go on that"; and

• While discussing the Tree Contest in Victory Park, heard City Manager Diana Kollmeyer say when the Chamber of Commerce came to get permission, the city asked them to meet with Rutherford and walk the park to find the best place for the display. "They did not do that and placed the trees in the wind tunnel along Huron River Drive. One is already down." She said next year they will move the display. Rutherford said "stickem" signs were put in front of the trees which looks bad. He said the trees could have complemented the gazebo tree and in that location they could have had electricity. Kollmeyer said this is the first year and, like the scarecrow display, it will be better in upcoming years.

The City of Belleville won a first-place trophy for this float in Saturday’s parade. The theme of the parade was “Songs of the Season” and the City Council and Parks and Recreation members chose to depict “Silver Bells” and “I’ll be Home for Christmas,” to reflect downtown Belleville during the holiday season.

VBT first in tri-community to opt out of pot biz

At Tuesday's regular meeting, the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees voted unanimously to approve the first reading of an ordinance to opt out of allowing marijuana dispensaries and grow operations within township borders. The second, final, reading is Dec. 18.

While Sumpter Township and the City of Belleville will be considering like moves, VBT is the first in the tri-community to take official steps to keep businesses from opening within their borders until the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) has set the rules.

LARA has a year, under the recreational marijuana law approved by voters, to set the rules for businesses. The township wanted to wait until they know what the rules are before agreeing to host businesses.

But, board members want to be sure the desires of their residents are considered, since VBT voters voted two to one to approve recreational marijuana on Nov. 6. Did they just want to use it or do they want to be able to buy it next door? That's what board members want to know and public hearings will be planned once LARA's rules are announced.

As to the recreational marijuana law, it takes effect today, Dec. 6.

Congratulations to VBT for moving forward so quickly to make sure the township doesn't get itself stuck where it doesn't want to be.

EXTRA THINGS I KNOW

...By Rosemary K. Otzman

In her Belleville Area Museum newsletter, Director Katie Dallos announces that in 2019, entry to the museum has been bumped up from $2 per person/$1 per child to $5 recommended donation per person.

She said Belleville Area Historical Society members are always free.

"We hope you'll support your local museum through donations, bequests, and membership," Dallos wrote.

She also noted the annual holiday party for government officials and membership has been cancelled "due to finances and scheduling conflicts." She said they hope to bring that party back next year.

Dallos also announced that the 2019 Belleville Area Historical Society calendars are now on sale: $5 for members and $7 for non-members.

The people who were waiting for the lighted Holiday Train last Friday night were delighted when the lighted train sped by around 10:30 p.m. According to some videos of the train, it seemed to take 27 seconds to whoosh by.

The Canadian Pacific Holiday Train people earlier had released a statement on how it might turn off its lights as it went between Windsor and Chicago through Southeastern Michigan on Friday because of past experiences of people being too near or on the track. It wasn't safe and they had said the lights would be off. Then, maybe they'd be on. Well, they were on.

Besides the seven winter coats at $85 or so each for the VBT Trustees to wear as a "uniform," on the same voucher list approved on Tuesday were six "uniform" coats for the Building/Water Department, eight for Building/Parks Department, and three for the DDA. Also, there were 48 Halcyon Tumblers at about $12 each.

Supervisor McNamara assured the board that next year he was going to buy shirts for them all.

It was unfortunate that this came out the same week people got their tax bills in the mail.

Van Buren Township police are seeking a young man with a microphone to his lips, like those that work at drive-through restaurants, who smashed in the front glass door of Which Wich? sandwich shop next to Starbucks last week. He got in and took an empty cash register and police have the surveillance video of his actions. Call VBT police, 699-8930, if you know anything about this.

The VBT Board of Trustees went into closed-door session Monday afternoon, after its work/study session, to consider buying or leasing real property. Looks like they want to buy some more land.

Bob Mytych, our advertising manager, editorial page cartoonist, photographer, columnist, and general man-about-town, did all the drawings for the coloring book that the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Central Business Community gave to Santa to distribute to local children this year. They are really nice drawings and we congratulate him on his work. He also decorated for the holidays the Professional Building, that holds our offices, and the Bariatric Center across the street. What a busy guy. Makes me tired to watch him go.

On Monday morning at about 5:30 or 5:45, VBT Fire Fighters responded to a fire in the roof of a home on Marlowe, south of Ecorse. Fire Marshal Dave McNally said the house was owned by the person next door who was rebuilding it. The fire was in the attic area between the foam insulation and the outside roof. There was no active electrical power in that area to cause the fire.

Fire Marshal McNally said they are not dismissing the severe weather from Saturday. He said no one was in the building. The owner will have to redo the roof and double-check the wiring.

The U.S. Signal data center recently approved by the VBT Planning Commission for the northeast corner of Tyler and Haggerty roads, will add up to 100,000 square feet more of data center space in the greater Detroit area. Use of cloud-first, hybrid, and off-premises data centers make such places needed. It will have five employees.

Remember Pearl Harbor Day – Dec. 7

To the editor:

In the first hours of America's Pacific war, our nation suffered one of her worst wartime losses: 2,388 men, women, and children were killed in the attack on Pearl Harbor. The targets of attack were naval ships and military facilities throughout Oahu.

At dawn on Dec. 7, 1941 more than half of the United States Pacific Fleet, approximately 150 vessels and service craft, lay at anchor or alongside piers in Pearl Harbor. All but one of the Pacific Fleet's battleships were in port that morning, most of them moored to quays flanking Ford Island. By 10 a.m. the tranquil Sunday calm had been shattered, 21 vessels lay sunk or damaged, the fighting backbone of the fleet apparently broken. Smoke from burning planes and hangers filled the sky. Oil from sinking ships clogged the harbor. Death was everywhere.

The fleet in Pearl Harbor, the focus of the attack, suffered the greatest loss, almost half the total casualties occurred when the USS Arizona blew up. Army, Navy, Army Air Force, and Marine Corps facilities across the length and breadth of Oahu, from Kaneohe to Haleiwa to Malakole, bore their share of death and destruction. Hickam, Wheeler, and Bellows Army Air Force bases lost 217 men and 77 aircraft. Naval Air Stations at Ford Island and Kaneohe lost 19 men. Pacific Fleet naval aircraft losses in total, were 92. At Ewa Marine Corps Air Station, 4 men were killed and 33 aircraft were destroyed. Civilians from Waikiki to Pearl City were killed by exploding anti-aircraft munitions (friendly fire).

President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a speech to Congress the next day said: "Dec. 7, 1941, a date which will live in infamy. ... No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people, in their righteous might, will win through to absolute victory."

GOD BLESS AMERICA.

Good time at this year's Christmas Parade

To the editor:

Went to the Christmas Parade Saturday evening. Little rain and kind of cool.

Wanted to thank Shannon of Photography by Shannon for cookies and donuts and her open house at her studio. Can't forget Mike and Lena for supplying the hot chocolate.

Was good to see Scott and Liz. They kept me in Kit Kats during the soccer season. And, the Yoder family and son Josiah, who with my grandson Chandler in the marching band, have been such a big help to us this year.

A good time was had by all. Merry Christmas.

ORPHAN OF THE WEEK "JUNO"

Meet Juno, she's a 5 year old Bulldog mix that hasn't met a person or treat she didn't like! She is extremely sweet and attentive to people and loves passing out doggie kisses to show her affection. You may have to forgo some personal space since this girl likes her cuddle time too. She also LOVES food and is very motivated to get it even if it means being a sneaky girl at times. Juno has a mellow energy level that enjoys casual strolls and leisurely playtime. We do suggest using a harness for walks to avoid pulling on her sensitive neck area. She isn't the most graceful of pups tending to be like a bull in a china shop in her surroundings but her great personality makes up for it. Snorting and snoring also come standard with Juno which just means you will always know where she is. Her looks are one of a kind too with a bluish gray coat that covers an adorably huge head on a little body. If you would like to meet Juno call today to make an appointment. She's already spayed, vaccinated and micro-chipped. Call Friends of Michigan Animals Rescue at 734-461-9458 or visit our website fmar1.org for more information.

of one of the three DDA officers; changes between $3,500 and $6,999.99 can be approved by Ireland with the concurrence of two officers; and changes between $7,000 and $21,999.99 can be approved by Ireland with concurrence of three officers. All changes will be brought to the next meeting. Anything above those changes would need to be brought to the full DDA board. Supervisor McNamara said Ireland's suggestion was common if you have a change order and it's under a certain amount;

- Approved $21,347.79 worth of change orders on the Placemaking Project. One change is adding a corrugated 4" socked drain installed with a sump pump for water drainage, at a cost of $5,347.79; and changing the mason contractor, since the original mason elected to take another job because the work exceeded the 90-day contract price hold date. They went to the next bidder, who was $21,500 higher, but was negotiated down to $16,000. The two changes will come out of the approved contingency of $200,000, leaving $178,652.21 in the contingency fund. DDA secretary Chris Brown said every house in Belleville has a perimeter drainage system and a sump pump. "I was surprised it wasn't a part of the original plans," Brown said. Two other changes requested were refused by Ireland: a shelf for the charging station because it could easily be broken off and an overhead door change, since all renderings indicated that the overhead doors on Building B were the textured-style door and she refused any upgrade fee;
- Approved spending $1,500 for continuation of banner impressions with Hour Media;

- Viewed the DDA's new website;
- Heard Ireland discuss the pedestrian path over I-94 that is wrapped up for the season and open to the public. Tree planting and landscaping will be delayed until after Memorial Day, along with painting, staining, and final restoration of the land. Ireland said they will wait until the ground is hard to move the heavy equipment so they don't tear up the site;
- Heard intern Kalnasy give a report on site visits in the DDA district and questionnaire feedback. She reported the public wanted more events and projects to unify the community and business owners, increased variety of food/dining options, more distinguishable downtown identity, more exposure about the DDA and what it does, and workshops for the community, including mentoring/tutoring, teambuilding, building your brand, and first aid/emergency training, and assist/support disadvantaged families;
- Heard Lothringer report on her email outreach, social media, publicity pieces and advertisements, and attendance at meetings; and
- Discussed the township's new snow-removal ordinance and how it will affect businesses.

VBT Trustee Paul White protests purchase of coats for twp. board

By Rosemary K. Oztman
Independent Editor

"I don't want residents to buy me a winter coat," Trustee Paul White said during Monday's work/study session of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

"The coats cost $85 each," Trustee White said. "It's an OK coat, but it did not come before us as a purchase. We had emails asking our size and were asked to come in and try it on."

"It's an improper expense and you're trying to get away with it by calling it a 'uniform,'" he said to Supervisor Kevin McNamara who ordered the coats.

"When it gets out taxpayers are going to say, 'I'm buying Paul White a winter coat with tax dollars.' I don't want residents to buy me a winter coat."

White said he planned to write a check to cover the cost of the coat, but Supervisor McNamara told clerks in the township not to accept a check from Paul White.

"I said, do not give Paul White a receipt for that jacket," McNamara said.

McNamara read from a prepared statement, which said each year he purchases one article of clothing. Last year it was shirts and, "You had no problem with that," he said to White.

McNamara said White had emails about the coat and there were no objections by White or anyone else. He said White called twice.

"We ordered them on your request. We got your size. You tried it on and then we embroidered them. Once we had them done, then you complained."

"You're doing this solely so ... You set this board up for a Belleville Independent article," McNamara said.

"Last year you went out to Which Wich? and bought sandwiches for the board," White said.

McNamara said the Michigan Township Association said that was all right.

White said he didn't care what the MTA said and the board members can buy their own lunches. He asked McNamara why he is calling a "coat" a "uniform?"

"I won't talk to you about this," McNamara said.

White said he could take it to the regular board meeting the next night, which is cablecast.

"I do not expect taxpayers to buy me a piece of personal clothing," White said.

On another concern, White wanted to talk about the Winter Fest parade the previous Saturday.

"You required everyone go and you did not go yourself," White said, adding McNamara told him a police car would be available for him to ride in. He said the fire truck was fully occupied and a fire truck was not acceptable to jump in and out of to give candy away.

McNamara said he didn't take part in the parade because he gets sick, for long periods, apparently referring to the cold, rainy weather.

White said he was told there were three police cars there and he couldn't find them, so he called dispatch and they didn't know. [Later, White said police officers told him the three police cars were parked along W. Columbia Ave. because they couldn't get into the parade setup area through that entry point. The entry point is off South Street, behind the school.]

"I have 900 pieces of candy to eat," White said, noting that he went home when there was no vehicle for him to use in the parade.

McNamara said he called the parade officials earlier Monday. He said he sent in the parade application for fire, police, and elected officials. At 5 p.m. before the parade, there were just two floats there, with VBT Public Safety and Belleville. At 5:30 p.m., everybody came and it was "mad pandemonium."

"They are very sorry they split us up," McNamara said.

"I was there at 5:10 p.m. and there were no police cars," White said.

"Despite our differences, I don't like it when a trustee gets left out," McNamara said.

Trustee Sherry Frazier said the board is not working together.

"It's unfortunate you were missed," said Trustee Reggie Miller. "I don't think it was on purpose."

White said Fire Marshal Dave McNally said, "I don't have room. I'm full."

"I don't think you're to blame here,"

Trustee Miller said to McNamara. "Let's go back to the coats... It does serve a public purpose. You called us and we had ample input ... It is a uniform ... all of us in the same coat."

"It's improper to spend our residents' tax money on things like this," White insisted.

"I didn't want one," Trustee Frazier said of the coat.

"I didn't either," said Clerk Leon Wright, noting he didn't participate in the parade and he hasn't worn the coat yet. "It's on the coat rack. I have multiple coats."

"We all agreed by not saying no," Clerk Wright said. "If you pay for it, it's like we're wrong ... You're talking about perception of the coat."

"The moral of the story is we should discuss these things before we make purchases for the board," Frazier said. "We did not discuss the purchase of a coat at the board table..."

"Next year, I'll be purchasing shirts," McNamara said.

"You've got a coat," Miller said to White.

"We should never accept tax money for personal clothing," White said and the meeting adjourned.

"You have to be odd to be number one."

November big month for Community Food Closet

To the editor:

November has been a big month for the First United Methodist Church Food Closet.

The Belleville Downtown Development Authority donated $250 from the Fresh Brewed Booville event on Oct. 31 at Victory Park. Thanks to all who donated, made coffee, and served it.

On Nov. 1, we were notified by Meijer that we had earned $1,520 from the Simply Give program. A special thanks to those who donated to this fund raiser. These monies were used by Marilyn Wood to purchase food for the weekly bags.

On Nov. 10, Boy Scouts Troop 231 donated 130 bags of groceries to be used in the weekly bags. These 20 young men meet at Trinity Episcopal Church and are led by Scoutmaster Michael Holmes and Tammy Wall. Thank you to all who contributed and Gary Rogers who sorted all the food.

The very next day, 90 bags were packed to distribute to clients of the Belleville Food Closet by 28 members of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. A huge thanks to those who distributed the 94 bags: Judy Hulett, Joyce Forest, Deb Smith, Ginny Matteson, and Gary Rogers. Jan Renton, Food Closet Director

Bring back cart for my mother's recycle bin

To the editor:

My mother is a Van Buren Township resident. She is 88 years old and lives on Robson Road. Her normal garbage pickup day is Thursday, but last week it was moved to Friday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

She has her recycle bin in a small cart so that it can be easily moved to the road and back. Sometime between Thursday afternoon and Friday afternoon someone stole the cart.

It was made from aluminum bars with wheels on the front and handles with hand grips on the back. My mother has been upset by the loss, not only because of the convenience, but also because my dad made the cart before he passed away.

Not being a thief is simple. If it's not yours, don't touch it. I doubt that it was picked up by a scrapper because it is so light weight.

If, by chance, someone reading this knows its whereabouts and would like to return it, it would certainly be appreciated.

Van Buren Resident
